PACKING TIPS

1. "The one thing you must bring is the most comfortable pair of shoes you have. Make that two pairs! You are going to do more walking than you can even imagine."
—TripAdvisor Member, New Jersey
2. "Vegas is very casual during the hot summer months [but] for some of the night clubs, you will want to dress up."
—TripAdvisor Member
3. Summer in the desert is H-O-T; when you arrive, "go to a grocery store for bottled water."
—TripAdvisor Member, Kentucky

Inside LAS VEGAS

At night, Las Vegas rises from the surrounding Nevada desert with a mirage of twinkling lights, throngs of nocturnal partygoers on the move and floodlit replicas of familiar structures like the Sphinx, the Eiffel Tower and even the Statue of Liberty.

Casinos, naturally, continue to draw tourists. In Sin City, you'll find everything from penny slots to high-stakes table games in private salons. But there's much more to Vegas than gambling, from the choreographed fountains at the Bellagio to the Elvis-O-Rama Experience, as well as concerts from a range of singers, comedians and big-name personalities.

Las Vegas is also surprisingly family friendly. To appeal to kids of all ages, the hotels have spent millions developing technically sophisticated indoor amusement rides like the Circus Circus Adventuredome.

And if you really want to take a gamble, just get a marriage license and choose one of the many venues to tie the knot!
